Expressing Love & Community: The RCY Valentine Booth

The Red Cross Youth Organization (RCY) of Southville International School and Colleges (SISC) spread love and cheer this Valentine's season with a heartwarming booth held at the Lux Hall Hallway on February 17-18, 2025. The booth, bustling with activity, offered students a delightful escape with a fun game and a dedicated expression booth.

Students participated in the Valentine-themed game, testing their luck and winning exciting prizes. The air was filled with laughter and friendly competition, fostering camaraderie and a sense of community. Alongside the game, the expression booth provided a unique platform for students to share their thoughts and feelings. The booth quickly became a tapestry of emotions, showcasing the diverse range of feelings within the student body.

The RCY recognized the importance of providing avenues for students to express themselves. In a busy academic environment, it can be challenging for students to find the time and space to articulate their thoughts and feelings. The Valentine booth, with its expression corner, offered a creative and safe outlet. It allowed students to connect with others through shared sentiments, fostering a sense of belonging and understanding. Whether expressing affection for a friend, appreciation for a teacher, or simply reflecting on the meaning of Valentine's Day, the booth encouraged self-expression and emotional well-being. The RCY believes that nurturing emotional intelligence is just as important as academic growth, and this event was a testament to their commitment to holistic student development. The success of the Valentine booth underscored the students' enthusiasm for such initiatives and the RCY's dedication to creating a vibrant and supportive school community.
